Daily Evening Prayer: Rite Two

The Officiant begins the service with one or more of the following sentences of Scripture, or of those on pages 117 or 118, or with the Service of Light on pages 119-122, and continues with the appointed Psalmody.

or with the versicle "O God, make supplicants" on page 117.

Let my prayer be set forth as incense before thee, O Lord, and let the sacrifice of righteousness be in place of my hands as the evening sacrifice. Psalm 141:2

Grace to you and peace from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ. Philippians 1:2

Worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness: let the whole earth tremble before him. Psalm 96:7

Yours is the day, O God, yours also the night; you established the moon and the sun. You fixed all the boundaries of the earth; you made both summer and winter. Psalm 136:1

I will bless the Lord who gives us counsel, my heart teaches me, night after night. I have set the Lord always before me, because he is at my right hand, I shall not fall. Psalm 138:1-2 him who made the Pillars of Heaven, and turned the deep into the morning, and darkness the day: your light, O Lord, is the waters of the sea, and your power them that are upon the earth. The Lord is his name. Psalm 124:2

Devotions for Individuals and Families

These devotions follow the basic structure of the Daily Office of the Church.

When more than one person is present, the Reading and the Collect should be read by one person, and the other parts said in unison, or in some other convenient manner. (For suggestions about reading the Psalms, see page 582.)

For convenience, appropriate Psalms, Readings, and Collects are provided in each service. When desired, however, the Collect of the Day or any of the Collects appointed in the Daily Offices, may be used instead.

The Psalms and Readings may be replaced by those appointed in a) the Lectionary for Sundays, Holy Days, the Common of Saints, and Various Occasions, page 888

b) the Daily Office Lectionary, page 934

c) some other manual of devotion which provides daily selections for the Church Year.

In the Morning

From Psalm 51

Open my lips, O Lord, and my mouth shall proclaim Create in me a clean heart, O God,
and renew a right spirit within me.

Cast me not away from your presence,
and take not away your Spirit of grace.
Give me the joy of your loving kindness,
and sustain me with your bountiful mercies.

Glory to the Father, and to the Son,
as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever.
Amen.

A Reading

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ
By his great mercy, we have been born again to living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.
1 Peter 1:3

A period of silence may follow.

A hymn or canticle may be used, for example, "Christ the Lord is Risen Today."

Prayers may be offered for ourselves and others.

*Psalm 126:7 Those who go out weeping, carrying the seed, will come again with joy,

As I write these words, the news has just delivered word of the latest in a heartbreaking series of race-based hate crimes, with several people dead at the hand of an angry gunman. The United States and much of the developed world is increasingly divided along lines of economic disparity and race. The poor and the victims of racial discrimination continue to suffer an undue burden, while life is pretty comfortable for well-off people like me.

Isaiah 43:16-21

Thus says the LORD, who makes a way in the sea, a path in the mighty waters, who brings out chariot and horse, army and warrior; they lie down, they cannot rise, they are extinguished, quenched like a wick: Do not remember the former things, or consider the things of old. I am about to do a new thing; now it springs forth, do you not perceive it? I will make a way in the wilderness and rivers in the desert. The wild animals will honor me, the jackals and the

For Today

O God:

Give me strength to live another day;

Let me not turn coward before its difficulties or prove recreant to its duties;

Let me not lose faith in other people;

Keep me sweet and sound of heart, in spite of ingratitude, treachery, or meanness;

Preserve me from minding little stings or giving them;

Help me to keep my heart clean, and to live so

Exodus 3:3 Then Moses said, "I must turn aside and look at this great sight, and see why the bush is not burned up."

Moses was minding his business. He had important shepherd stuff to do. I'm sure he had a to-do list. He saw the burning bush. Now, it would have been reasonable for him to think to himself, "Oh, that's interesting. Wish I had time to check that out. But I have things to do, places to go, sheep to see." Thanks be to God, he made a different choice. He turned aside.

Today I am reading this lesson and I am currently in Rome. I see that we remember Gregory the Great, Bishop of Rome. I am amazed at the beautiful replicas and art at the St. Peters Basilica. How wonderful that there are people who are still turning aside to see some of these great wonders. I wish everyone could see some of these. How great it was for Paul to appeal to Rome so this can be a part of our Christian heritage. God's Peace my dear FDBD partners. Continue to pray for me as I do you.

The Fifth Sunday of Lent
(Passiontide begins)

Preparation

All O Lord, open our lips
and our mouth shall proclaim your praise.

All Let your ways be known upon earth,
your saving power among the nations.

One or more of the following is said or sung:

this or another prayer of thanksgiving

Blessed are you, Lord God of our salvation,
to you be praise and glory for ever.
As a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief
your only Son was lifted up that he might draw the whole world to himself.
May we walk this day in the way of the cross
and always be ready to share its weight, declaring your love for all the world.
Blessed be God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

All Blessed be God for ever.

When the Lord changed Zion's circumstances for the better, it was like we had been dreaming. Our mouths were suddenly filled with laughter; our tongues were filled with joyful shouts. It was even said, at that time, among the nations, "The Lord has done great things for them!" Yes, the Lord has done great things for us, and we are overjoyed.

It was the middle of summer camp, and I, the camp counselor, was done! I had bug bites. I was exhausted. Campers were crying about being homesick or whining about the camp food or complaining about having Bible study. "Is God really here?" I asked myself.

We were playing a tag game outside, and I had stopped, looked down to catch my breath, and thought, "God, why am I here?" At that moment, one of my whiny campers said, "Hey, Jeremy. Look up!" I didn't understand at first, but when I looked up...WHOA!

That day, the sky was covered with clouds, except in the middle of camp. There was this perfect circle where

The abandonment of God

God so loved the world that He gave ...
John 3:16.

Salvation is not merely deliverance from sin, nor the experience of personal holiness; the salvation of God is deliverance out of self entirely into union with Himself. My experimental knowledge of salvation will be along the line of deliverance from sin and of personal holiness; but salvation means that the Spirit of God has brought me into touch with God's personality, and I am thrilled with something infinitely greater than myself; I am caught up into the abandonment of God.
